

Title:

Be thou perfect, even as your Father in heaven is perfect.

Every Father should want their children to become greater than they. Every Father should love their children unconditionally and do everything they can to help their children become their best. What Father would want or expect their child to be lesser than they; save it be a Father of lies, hate, envy, idolatry, pride and full of sin. A perfect loving, compassionate, patient, kind, merciful, empathetic and all wise Father wants his children to be the same if not greater than he. Our God, creator and Father truly said, "I want to bring to pass the immortality and eternal life of man."

Now, let's be very clear, factual and direct; nowhere is it taught or said by God or Jesus, "Nobody is going to be perfect for we all sin." Nowhere is it taught we can't be perfect or we cannot become like Jesus or God our Father. Nobody can show us a Scripture anywhere stating we are not to become perfect or we cannot become like Father.

Our entire purpose in life or coming to this world Father created for us is to become like Father and return into his presence; thus we all have already been perfectly pure in his presence already. We have already been spotless, innocent and clean in Father's presence. With wisdom we have learned we can come to earth receiving a physical body, being tested of our faith and tried or refined to become one with the Father again.

We have been taught how to become like Father, even perfect through the example of His only begotten son, Jesus Christ. Our Savior, Redeemer and Elder brother took upon him the sins, pains, suffering and all that would keep us from entering Father's presence; he paid the price in full. The Atonement of Jesus Christ is finished, all sins are his who come unto him with a repented broken heart and a contrite spirit. Through sincere repentance the Savior forgives all, and he knows your heart and intentions. Father and the Lord know us better than we know ourselves; thus they know we can become like them, and must to enter their presence again.

No man who has lived on earth has not committed a sin, experienced pain or has suffered. All men are able and given the ~~mercy~~ and Grace of Father and His Son Jesus Christ to use the atonement to be healed, cleansed and perfected through Christ; to enter Father's presence again. Using prayer, repentance, the Lord's grace and mercy is a blessing so, we can become perfected through Christ. We can & must put away sin. Our weaknesses will become strengths. We can master or perfect each weakness we have. We do not have to sin daily, nowhere does Father teach us we are weak after we repent and cannot be perfect. Follow Jesus Christ, be willing to give up all that you have been given.

"We should have no issue or concern with these teachings," thus saith the Lord. Remember, all that Father wishes for his children to hear, let them hear. These are His words, His love, His work, His plan and purpose.

Let's remember the women caught in Adultery, She was told to "sin no more lest your consequences be even greater." The Lord commanded her to sin no more. Father would never give a commandment we couldn't keep. We must stop allowing ourselves to sin merely because the world teaches: "Nobody is perfect", "All is well in Zion", "Eat drink and be merry - we'll receive of few stripes for our sin, but we can always repent and place more sin on Christ's Shoulders."

There is only true love, compassion, mercy, grace and patience given when proper teaching or counsel is given. Encouraging God's children to: "put away sin" or "you can perfect your weaknesses" or "Nothing is impossible with God, you can do this" are all truths that are taught by the Lord. Stop making excuses to sin such as: "Have you ever been married?" or "We can only strive each day to be good" or "Nobody can be perfect" or "The Prophet or leaders in church aren't perfect" or "I will repent before I die so I can enjoy life."

There are so many lies, deceptions, falsehoods. Father did not instruct us or give us a commandment to be thou perfect as the Prophets or leaders of the Church. They can help us as a brother's keeper, but that's not the way.

Only Jesus Christ is the way, the truth and the light. Nobody goes to perfection save it be through Jesus Christ; thus become like him!

The debate, question, doubt or closed eyes should end with this one example, but I will share several. The people of the city of Enoch were lifted up to heaven, even translated into his presence. Indeed, Enoch and his people became perfected through Christ and his atonement and Jesus had not suffered yet in the garden or on the cross. However, just as Adam, Enoch, Noah and other Prophets walked with God, Jesus Christ so too can those who have faith, charity, love and all attributes of Jesus Christ. Be thou perfect as your Father in heaven is perfect and all those angels and children who live in His Kingdom/presence.

Just because you die on earth doesn't mean you automatically enter Father's presence. Separation from this world doesn't put you in a state of righteousness. Those who are righteous may see the face of God & the Lord and have. No Prophet or man has lived a perfect life, but several Prophets and children of God have seen the face of God, been in His presence, and walked and talked with them. It's not only obtainable, but a commandment and law to enter His Kingdom. Please stop telling others perfection isn't obtainable in this life or the life to come; it is required to enter in.

If you are sinning, stop it! Pray to God today and ask Him to help you make your weaknesses strengths. Like Captain Moroni, King Lamoni and many others lets, "Put away sin" and "cause the very gates of hell to shake." Elijah was taken up in a chariot, and he and Moses shall return. Those Nephites^{who} lived at the time of the resurrected Saviors visit to the Americas saw Angels coming down from heaven. They live over two hundred years like that of a city of Enoch, even with no poor among them or sin; thus the 3 Nephites lived among them until the people lived in wickedness and sin and they were removed from that civilization or people.

The 3 Nephites went to the Kingdom of God and were commanded to not speak or write of the things they saw or learned. However, they live on earth today committing no acts that would take them from the presence of Father if he were to call them home today. Same applies to Peter, James and John who have tarried on earth since Christ ministered in the flesh. Angels are among us in disguise helping Father to teach these truths and principles.

Each week on Sunday or whenever we partake of the Sacrament with a repentant heart are we not in a state of perfection? Are we not cleansed purely before the Lord through his atonement & the covenants we have made at Baptism to be like him?

There is no pure of a person on earth or heaven as one rises up out of the waters of Baptism, even Joseph saw his brother Alvin in the Kingdom of God, and his temple baptism had not been done yet.

We must open our eyes to the power and truths of Gods wisdom, we do not know all that he knows, and to put limits on his children because we have assumptions or interpretations that are not His will place us in error. The things I speak no man can attest unless you state that God our Creator and Father of all told you otherwise by way of His voice of spiritual influence.

I am one with the Father and the Son, Father has raised me up and placed me in the hands of the Lord to do His will. The Lord Jesus Christ and I are doing all that the Father asks of us, even to bring all Glory and Praise to Him.

Prepare ye this day whom shall ye serve, for me and my house, we shall serve the Lord. No man can serve two masters. Satan is bound during the millenium because those who live in the New Jerusalem have one heart, one mind, no poor among them and are full of charity; Yeh, they are perfect, even as Father in heaven is perfect, having become one through Christ and his mercy, grace and love!
Thus Saith The Lord!
